THE ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Speech of Governor Seymour as the Guest of Nicholas Hans Hemingway at Delmonico, Wednesday Evening, October 7.

The Keystone Club, of Philadelphia, held one of its regular meetings on Wednesday evening last. The gathering is said to have been the largest in the history of the club. Governor Seymour addressed the assembled multitude in the speech published below. It is probably one of the ablest efforts of that distinguished man:

FELLOW CITIZENS: I am suffering great pain from illness, and labor now more than I ought. In deference with I attempt to speak to you with regard to the issues which are to be decided by the ballot of the American people. I stand before you to night impressed with the weight of this issue. I stand before you as named in the highest office in the nation's gift. Gentlemen, I utter no word which is not prompted by the deep emotion of my heart, when I declare that I do not stand here to night unmindful of the honor which you have conferred upon me, nor do I stand here to night against that position, or any failure which those who do not agree with me may have achieved. If I am honored by the presence of one of those who differ with me upon the one side or the other, I ask of him that for the moment, he will let aside his prepossessions, and that he will, I shall attempt to show him, with entire reason, why I should not (I will not say, the right of) administration to save the Union, and that to place this administration in power, by the votes of you, would be dangerous to the liberties of the people, and to the future peace and welfare of the country. I do not desire to be egotistical, or overly meeting judgment. I do not set up my opinion, as against that of others, but as an humble citizen, ask simply to listen to the wisdom of those who are here. I ask you to consider the facts that will show our country was great and prosperous. Under the rule of the Democratic efforts from a position small paper, now within eighteen months of the close of the administration of which I am in which we are engaged. The people of the United States have been prosperous and happy. Our country has been respected at home and abroad. Many thousands of our young men—the hope of our country—are second in numbers and in valor to those who have gone before in the armies of our fathers, if we did not call this so-called administration into existence by the demand of them an account of the blood and treasure which it has taken to bring us to where we have now so firmly placed our feet in that country.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the issue which you have to decide is not merely as to the question of the success of the war, but it is, in sweeping our power men into early graves, or restoring to the people the constitution that, in various forms, their fathers established for their protection. It is a question of the value of the name of law, or of war

THE CAMPAIGN WORLD.

The Campaign WORLD will be published at the following terms:

Ten copies, to one address.....$5.00
Twenty copies, to one address.....10.00
Fifty copies, to one address.....20.00
One hundred copies, to one address.....40.00

In answer to numerous inquiries respecting the terms, &c., of the Campaign WORLD, we have prepared the following, which will cover nearly every case which may arise:

1. We cannot, in any case, depart from the prices and terms given above.

2. Packages must in all cases be sent to one address. It is impossible to send to a number of our patrons to whom the package is to go.

3. We will not send specimen copies.

4. Persons ordering a club of twenty, fifty or one hundred, must state whether they want a part of them sent to back numbers or to the getting up of other clubs. We will be willing to do either, and we cannot name the Democratic majority, as we cannot name how the Democrat at each post-office will be disposed to act for the cause.

5. The package to each subscriber will be, for the term, five cents, if paid in advance. Postmasters are required by the Post Office Department to collect five cents for each paper forwarded, if the postage is not paid in advance. In many cases it will be found to be cheaper to distribute them ourselves, but the postage must be paid or collected and refunded to us before we can forward.

The large edition which we are called upon to print, and the necessity for dispatch in forwarding, compel us to say that the publication of the Campaign WORLD will take book-keeping and other clerical work. The money in advance, with the wish to be done instance, and we ask the co-operation of every friend of the cause.

GOOD NEWS FROM NEW ENGLAND.—THE VICTORIOUS ADVANCE OF THE DEMOCRACY.

WATERBURY, what of the night? Its signs are all of promise! Wherever no loomed calibre, loyal to the Union and the Constitution, is working for the triumph of sound principles, and for the salvation of the Republic, by the election of a President determined to preserve the Union by obedience to the Constitution, there is good cheer and hope in his labor. Great is the power arrayed against us—a national treasury controlled by unscrupulous partisans, an army of office-holders banded together by the attractive force of the public spoils, all that fraud and corruption can bring and keep together of the worst elements in the state—but we are not afraid of the battle. But wherever the issue has not been joined, victory is with us; the hostile front wavers wherever it has not been struck; the cohorts of Liberty and Law are everywhere advancing.

In Maine a Democratic gain of about two thousand votes attests the increasing vigor of the Democracy. In Connecticut, where, as in Maine also, every engine of political patronage and social despotism has been remorselessly set to work against us, we have made a gain, in many cases doubling upon that vote!

A cry of terror is going up from the entrenched partisans of the administration in all quarters of the Republic. It is the cry of broken hearts!

The state has already repudiated Lincoln! In seven towns alone a Democratic gain of one thousand votes heralds the doom of the traitors at Washington who have dared to forget that the administration exists for the nation, not the nation for the administration. Bridgeport, for several years past, overwhelmingly Republican, has given a Democratic majority of 117. Derby, on the largest vote ever polled there, gives a Democratic majority for the first time in twenty years! Norwalk, with a Democratic gain of 266 since last spring; Greenwich, a Democratic majority of 167; New London, a Democratic gain of 182; Meriden, a Democratic gain of 100!

"Everywhere," exclaims, in alarm, the Hartford Press, "the Democracy have shown a united and determined front." Wherever the Democracy have been aroused into life, to die they move forward to victory. From Maine to Pennsylvania, from Pennsylvania to the far West, they are forming line to the battle-cry of victory in November. Against all that we hear from Pennsylvania is as cheering as all that we see in Indiana and in Connecticut. With the start lifting even New England from the standard and parting cables of abolition is setting in stronger and stronger every day throughout the Central States and the great West.

Let the Democracy of the North of liberty and of law! Yet a few weeks more of honest, earnest, manly effort—one final, overwhelming rally for McCLELLAN and PENDLETON, for the Union, the Constitution, and the enforcement of all laws, and the victory is ours!

MR. LINCOLN'S PLOT TO DISFRANCHISE MARYLAND.

The Maryland Democratic Convention met last week with full delegations from every county in the state save two, formally and unanimously ratified the nomination of McCLELLAN and PENDLETON, and issued a electoral ticket for the November canvass, advised the Democratic voters of Maryland to waive their objections to taking the illegal oath required of them, and urged them to vindicate the freedom of the ballot-box at the state election on October 13th and 14th, and at the presidential election in November.

The State Central Committee issued an address to the voters of Maryland advising every one "to waive his objection to the illegality of the oath, and, if he felt justified in so doing, to take the oath and vote," for the sake "of the blessings of free government and of the Union."

By this action the two electoral votes of Maryland were as good as cast for McCLELLAN and PENDLETON when last Friday's news came. Beyond all controversy the vote of the loyal, Union-loving Democratic and conservative men of Maryland would have outnumbered the votes of Republicans, of office-holders, and of disunionists combined, and with a margin which no plausible frauds could have overcome.

MR. LINCOLN has not dreamed that the Democracy of Maryland would take part in such a vote. Their friends in other states have hardly hoped it, aware as they were of the callousness, of its rejection in former elections, of the peculiar obnoxiousness of the oath now to be demanded, prescribed with insolent carelessness by the Republican Legislature, Republican Constitutional Convention, although the oath is itself a part of the very constitution whose adoption or rejection the coming election is to determine. But the action of these Democrats was unanimous. They saw that their only hope of redeeming the nation from the despotic hands which have ground Maryland deeper into the dust was in constitutional liberty, and to the ballot-box they resolved, peacefully, quietly, and solely in their united strength, to appeal.

Mary land's vote was to be, we have said, were as good as cast for McCLELLAN and PENDLETON.

The only Democratic press in Baltimore, the Evening Post, ever fully published the proceedings of the convention, and the electoral ticket there put in nomination was placed at the head of its columns. The Democrats of Baltimore were now fully informed of the proceedings of their leaders; were thus to be informed when to vote for, in order to secure the seven votes of Maryland for the Democratic Presidency.

On Friday afternoon, by command of Major-General WALLACE, the publication of the Evening Post was stopped.

The Democratic voters are now now without a daily journal, without the means of expressing their political opinions, without the means of diffusing to voters political intelligence, without the daily publication of the claims of Mr. LINCOLN'S opponents.

Lives there one American freeman whose whole soul is not fired with indignation at this open, shameless, and unprecedented use of the arm and looking of the fingers of tyranny? Will one Republican journal in all this land refuse to denounce with prompt, sweeping, and unqualified severity this attempt of Mr. LINCOLN toward the perpetuation of his rule by violence and usurpation?

But some one may say, surely there was a necessity for thus suppressing the voice of Democratic organ in Baltimore, or Mr. LINCOLN would not have dared to permit it. We are impatient of arguments from military or political "necessity." They are the refuge of one supreme necessity, "Union and liberty, one and inseparable." But we will be patient and recite the facts of this suppression, and let both judge of it. We appeal to every honest and patriotic man, though he be Mr. LINCOLN'S most ardent supporter, if there be any necessity which can account for it, except the necessity of Mr. LINCOLN'S reelection!

The Evening Post was established as a daily Democratic newspaper, on the 7th of last June, by Democratic citizens, for Democratic issues. Its conduct has been so perfect that not one complaint has been lodged against it by the very sensitive military commandant of the district. Its proceedings in the Chicago Convention, it placed the names of McCLELLAN and PENDLETON at the head of its columns, and has done nothing since which could warrant or offence their election. But without an observant clerical ticket in nomination, such advocacy would have been of no avail. The Democratic Convention, its proceedings we have recited. The Evening Post published the Democratic electoral ticket last week, and was then suppressed.

Its issue of Friday, containing this ticket, contained also many other papers which the North has contained, an account of the recent riot at Cincinnati, where a Republican mob assaulted and fired upon several citizens, wrecked and destroyed the printing office, damage upon the office of the Enquirer. A copy of this last issue of the Post is before us. It contains the Enquirer's account of the mob, and the Post's account also, entirely conflicting in the main facts, however. The editor of the Evening Post thus conformed, even in the publication of facts to the wishes of the commandant, General WALLACE'S predecessor, viz: that if a news article was published reflecting upon the administration, both versions should be published in parallel columns. The historian boards announce the same news, simply and truthfully. A squad of soldiers, whether ordered by General WALLACE or some subordinate to do so, does not appear, took possession of these bulletin boards, carried them to headquarters, whether the proprietors of the Post were com mmanded, and whence was issued the following order, which General WALLACE has since positively refused to revoke:

HEADQRS EIGHTH MILITARY DIST'T, BALTIMORE, SEPTEMBER 30, 1864.

Editor Evening Post:

As the usual means of preventing your office being made the subject of violence, you will discontinue the publication of your paper, this Evening Post.

By command of Major-General WALLACE.

OTHO MARTINDALE,
Capt. and A. A. G.

WAS there, then, danger to the Evening Post. Not a shadow of it. Not a single man had threatened it. Not a single man had even said a word to it. Not a single man had even said a word to it. Not a single man had even said a word to serving our country thirty-three months (all terms of re-enlistment) as soldiers.

The rest of the letter is a mere stale dish-up for Lincoln and fifty-for-Hetlellers, and all or each a fair proportion of the vote to go to Lincoln; if they would give an aggregate of one-third of the number, we would be satisfied.

Among the number belonging to vote, there is one man that is not entitled to a vote in Lucina.

The above is a true and correct statement in form, to which he subscribes and makes oath to be obligated.

JAMES A. CASEY, of Perry county,
Sergt's JOHN STEWART, of Henry county,
Sergt's JAMES B. JONES,
JAMES H. BLOOD,
JAS. M. BUNCEY,
MATTHEW GARNELL,
Corp'l JAS. BURNS,
PHILIP BUCHTEL,
MICHAEL LAVEY, of Jackson.
W. L. HOWARD, Washington county.
DAVID REESE, } of Harrison.
MICHAEL SCHAFFSTALL, }
JACOB BOWMAN, of Indianapolis.

Nevertheless, we are not to be surprised to see that Mr. LINCOLN, by all his frauds, can carry Indiana through. He is backed by the whole Democratic conscience with Republican soldiers, half of whom would vote for MCCLELLAN, but will not vote against MOZART. We expect that our friends will carry the state in October, but sweat in it to Novembre.

BISHOP HOPKINS.

Perhaps as well known as born more vill fled and abused by the abolitionists than Bishop HOPKINS; and this for telling the same ground on the subject of the present slavery which MOSES STUART, one of the most learned and conservative editors of the Boston Recorder Congregationalist, took in a pamphlet published by him several years ago. Slavery existed [illegible] years before Christ, and among the Jews up to and long after the time of the Saviour; and if so, slavery could be cannot be a sin in the sight of God, as has been denounced by the prophets and apostles. No one justifies slavery as a permanent condition of society, but as a temporary one, and, on the other hand, because we have established slavery as a fact, and cannot, for the sake of our interest to do so, we ought to denounce the South because their eyes were not opened, in the providence of God, quite as soon as ours were.

But the views of Bishop HOPKINS and MOSES STUART are not those of the crowd in with those who know those men) are receiving confirmation from a most unexpected quarter. Prof. HENRY JAMES, of Boston, has recently written a pamphlet on the Bible view of slavery, in which he takes the same ground as the above-named scholars. Finally the same view is with our northern abolitionists. This work is reviewed in the last number of the Christian Examiner, the leading publication of Boston, and which has lately advocated extreme radical abolition views; and that review has not only not been answered but utes directly, that Mr. SMITH has shown great ignorance of the latest and best interpretation of the Bible.

The claim asserted (says this review), and which Mr. SMITH so much over-contradicts, that the Old Testament had no practical bearing on the life of his slave, is unfounded. If he took his slave to church, he did not do it unscripturally, but by a judge who was himself a slaveholder. But if he did not do it unscriptually, the master was not guilty of sin. This is a very important money." Slaves of Jewish birth were freed by the year of jubilee; but the Examiner candidly admits that the Jewish masters and slaves of heathen birth were freed by the year of jubilee is without any support from any fair interpretation.

The Examiner has not at all receded from its former position. But it is time for the people to see that any cause is injured by weak arguments, and so its reputation for learning, ability, and candor, as a religious organ is undisputed, it can well afford to be fair.

ANDREW JOHNSON PREACHES A NEW OATH—THE PRESIDENTIAL RESOLVE TO BE CARRIED BY BAYONETS.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON are sowing the wind, and the whirlwind civil war than the one which now desolates the country. They are co-operating with each other to defeat the will of the people in the presidential election. The plan which they have adopted to carry it LINCOLN and his intimate advisers. He first issued a call in the re-construction scheme submitted to Congress in July last, and which was not to be bare-faced a project for re-electing himself by fraud, that a Congress of his own party can a post-mortem check and balance which will strangle it. But Mr. LINCOLN vetoed the bill by proclamation, after the adjournment of Congress, and then resolved to make it valid for securing fraudulent votes enough to overbalance the legal votes against him in the loyal states. It was this determination, to contempt alike of the authority of Congress, the Constitution, and the rights and freedom of elections, that called forth that unanimity and scathing address to the people, known as the protest of the friends of the Wade-Davis manifesto. "The President," such is the language of that able address, "by pocket veto of the bill, from becoming a law, holds the electoral votes of the rebel states at his disposal for the use of candidates of 'Union.' After predicting civil war as the consequence of such a fraud, the address concludes: "And is not that civil war for the presidency inaugurated by the votes of the rebel states?"

The method by which this shameful fraud is to be consummated in the State of Tennessee, will appear from a perusal of the following call, which has just been proclaimed by ANDREW JOHNSON as a qualification of voters for presidential electors, and declaration of LINCOLN, or somebody in his interest, a party meeting was got together in Nashville, which passed resolves recommending the oath; and then the military government makes official proclamation that polls shall be opened for the choice of electors, and nobody permitted to vote who does not qualify by taking the oath. We copy the resolves and subjoined proclamation:

Resolved, That as a means for accomplishing his qualification of the voters, the registers and judges of election be sworn and may administer the oath to each voter, and that the oath be in the following words, to wit:

"I do solemnly swear that I will heartily support the Constitution of the United States, and will faithfully support the statutes of the same, so far as I am able, and will in all things conform myself to the laws and the decrees so far as enacted or made during the late rebellion, and will defend the Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, or clothed with the power of State sovereignty or not, any ordinance of secession or pretended ordinance of any State or people to the contrary notwithstanding, and will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, any ordinance of any State or people to the contrary notwithstanding, and will do this freely and without any reservation or purpose of evasion whatever; and that I do solemnly swear all the purposes of this oath, without any mental reservation whatever, and without any purpose of evasion whatever, so help me God."

Said oath being prima facie evidence, subject to be rebutted by testimony.

3. Resolved, That the Governor issue his proclamation, or cause other officers to do such county, and the Mayor of the city of Nashville, to open polls at the usual places for the election citizens of the State of Tennessee may be qualified to vote, as above by registration, and who take the oath prescribed by the Legislature, approved April 5, 1864, and failed to vote at the election held on that day, and that the Governor appoint such additional registers and judges of election as may be necessary for the purpose of holding said election.

4. Resolved, That the Governor, order and direct that an election for Presidential and Vice President of the United States of America be opened and held at the several voting places established in every county in the State of Tennessee, on the first Thursday in August, the 3d day of the month of November next, at which all citizens and soldiers, citizens of the State of Tennessee, for six months prior to the election citizens of the State of Tennessee, may be qualified to vote, as above by registration, and who take the oath prescribed by the Legislature, approved April 5, 1864, and failed to vote at the election held on that day, and that the Governor appoint such additional registers and judges of election as may be necessary for the purpose of holding said election.

By testimony whereof, I, Andrew Johnson, military governor of the State of Tennessee, do proclamation on my part, and have caused the seal of the state to be affixed at the Government at the city of Nashville, this 3d day of September, A. D. 1864.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the Governor.

ALVIN. EDWARD H. EAST, Sec'y of State.

This is the most extraordinary of the forms of an election, this hideous prostitution of that symbol of republican freedom, the ballot box, is of a piece with LINCOLN'S fraudulent scheme, which his own party in Congress would have killed but for his veto. The essence of the two schemes is the same—the exclusion from the polls of all except the partisans of the administration. The means which are also the same—an oath so worded that none but such partisans will take it. The oath prescribed by LINCOLN and his confederates to swear allegiance to his Emancipation proclamation. The oath proclaimed by Governor JOHNSON to be taken by the rebels' if whatever measures may be adopted." Both of course are illegal. Both are unconstitutional proclamation and all other absurdities which folly, fanaticism or fraud may invent. They are to be treated by the people with utter contempt as an armistice, even though they should become convinced that an armistice would result from the adoption of the oath. The oath is but a step to his ratification, tomorrow a crumb to the conservatives. Read his inaugural and then read his "To whom it may concern" letter. Which is the true LINCOLN? Which is the real LINCOLN? What has CORNELIUS said? What has he not said in the face of his oath as the President? But, oh, loyal patriots, vote you for an honest man.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR'S SPEECH.

We print this morning a full report of the address of Governor SEYMOUR at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia on Thursday evening. Governor SEYMOUR is speaking to a Democratic audience, and he therefore makes one more cogent and impressive than he could to a mixed audience, such as that to-day's Weekly. It is a document that deserves not merely to be read, but studied and weighed by every thoughtful citizen.

The old theory that a radical was always a conservative after he got in office, he did not do, but never what he did like, is now exploded by the experience of the last three years. All the radicals have attained to greater likes than they ever before dared hope for. The Ohio and Pennsylvania elections in August and Twenty-third street is rolling. South Carolina greets Massachusetts—and in mile, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois in September (29 an administration paper published at Fort Royal, S. C.), we read of a "great victory" gained in that state by two "leading belles in colored circles," who "went to work with a will, and got out of their own compatriots and many white guests." The report adds that "the glory was a very great one." The "glory" of Illinois was in taste." This quite puts the "Twenty-third street gang" in the shade. Missouri is a glorious "Union" state, and Kansas on the pole to the miscegens and miscegenators of the Palmetto State!

DEMOCRATS, BEWARE OF BETTING.

The Democratic party must not be allowed dodge for reducing the Democratic vote—more extensive, however, than has ever yet been known. Large sums of money, immense quantities of greenbacks by the administration and the shoddy wire-pullers. Agents have been appointed to bet in every town and of the states where the contest is close to induce Democrats to bet, the offer to be withdrawn at the polls, to offer wagers on the result of the election. The names of a thousand men are to be taken, or recorded, and on election day they will be prevented from voting, as the betting will have been made with the idea that work will promptly challenge them. It can readily be seen how the loss of a few Democratic votes in each town will affect the state. Democrats should take no bets. Independent people would be the certain result.

Clearly, this is an oath which is calculated to shut out thousands of the most loyal and patriotic voters who are not partisans of LINCOLN and JOHNSON. The protracted election which is to follow, will be a period of fraud and general violation, not only of decency and law, but of the first principles of republican government. It will be a time of the most shameful and every just and virtuous man. If the election should be close, votes enough will be sent out from Tennessee to turn the scale. In whatever light it can be viewed, the proceeding is an unconstitutional usurpation to elect the President and Vice-President of the United States, ordered by a military governor, at the request of a party in a meeting, of only one phase of the absurdity. The people who are thus called upon to vote stand toward the government in the relation of old Continentals, as has been decided by the Supreme Court. Those who refuse to participate in the election, under the restrictions imposed, will be not an insignificant number, and a new basis of population. It is known in advance, from the test applied, that they will all vote one way, and that will be for the power controlling the election and prescribing the test. The only further remark we will now offer on this outrage upon liberty, this perfidy to democracy, and republican principles, is a significant and pertinent inquiry taken from the Wade-Davis manifesto: "If these votes "turn the balance in his favor, is it to be supposed that he will be counted, defeated by such means, until assured?"

MCCLELLAN'S CONTEMPT—LINCOLN'S TRIMMING.

There are some jackasses on the stump who are trying to make capital out of Mr. McCLELLAN'S letter of acceptance as a political dodge.

Most single, earnest, consistent line of political conviction and practical policy, civil and military, runs through everything Mr. McCLELLAN has said and written from the beginning of the war till now.

Read the West Virginia proclamations, the letter to Gen. Scott, the letter to his subordinate generals, the memorandum to the President, the Harrison's Landing letter of last July, all point to the same end:

The Union at all hazards. War against armies only, and not against populations. South to be divided by the proffered olive branch—a North to be united by war for, and only for, the Union.

Not one man, not one journal of any standing, denies this forth and merely any inconsistency, any variableness, any shadow of turning in McCLELLAN'S judgment on the great question of the day, the great rebellion. Right or wrong, from first to last, they have been one and the same. They are summed up in the letter of Acceptance. The record of his acts is there put concisely into words. Look at it yourself. Be sure that it is correct. Not a weather-cock on fifty million banknote more inconsistent than he. Today a peg to his rations, tomorrow a crumb to the conservatives. Read his inaugural and then read his "To whom it may concern" letter. Which is the true LINCOLN? Which is the real LINCOLN? What has CORNELIUS said? What has he not said in the face of his oath as the President? But, oh, loyal patriots, vote you for an honest man.

What have honest men said of the danger of official interference to prevent the soldiers of the republic from expressing their minds freely in the coming election? What is not justified by the conduct of the Republican press as regards the Democratic party? This person has published the indictment to the soldiers for voting, and with these instructions. It is a Republican ticket, sanctioned and elected.

This is done in Washington, immediately under the eyes of "Honest Old Abe," who has directly disenfranchised every Democratic soldier sent by that great action into the field. The civilians of the United States being bullied at Washington to be judicially blind, and have ceased to see, to hear, to understand, or morally and politically deaf, that they should suffer the republic to drift into ruin in such hands as these!

SEWARD on DEMOCRATIC LOYALTY.—It is the cue of the Republican organs and party orators to denounce the Democracy and deny the loyalty of the Democratic party. This accounts for the large crowds that gathered in Faneuil Hall; SEWARD'S Auburn speech last month was pitched in the same key; the Republican convention, last fall and little, ran through as many changes on it as a chime of bells. SUMNER is the steepest of the party, and he may possibly believe it, as his ancestors believed that the innocent Quakers were bewitched by the devil; but SEWARD knows better. He consciously lashs himself to a low key when he says, in SEWARD'S Auburn speech made by him in February, 1861, Mr. SEWARD had the candor to say: "I know the Democracy of the North. I know that they are in their waning strength. I do not know a possible dissentient among them all. It is for love they will give him the vote. I do not know as they are in the bygone days, when Peter rose to swear for Paul, and Paul to swear the contest was always the war-cry of victory."

We commend this just expression of his honest opinion to the present attention of SECRETARY SEWARD, and of the whole tribe of lower-minded politicians of the Republican party, who denounce Democratic traitors and rebels.

All the reports from the Army of the Potomac confirm the opinion so often expressed in these columns that the best way to secure the unanswerably elected to their old commander, General MCCLELLAN, and, if a fair election can be had, give him an immense majority in November. The following private letter from an officer who has served in this army to one of his friends in this city, is worth more than a thousand votes, is a fair sample of the letters from similar sources that daily come to our office:

In regard to General MCCLELLAN, I can say with perfect truthfulness that he is universally beloved by the unjust treatment at the hands of the present administration, he has become more dear to the army. The great discussion which greeted his appointment to the command of the army of the Potomac in which he was first called to the front, his just successes and recovering devotion to the Union, and the love of his soldiers for him who have shared the varying fortunes of our gallant little army, and the pride we all have in being devoted to the preservation of our Union as a nation.

The great difference between the two candidates is the manner in which they view the issues of existence when the conviction and belief in the justness of the cause for which we fight to enforce the exercise of political sagacity; and the ability to see the end from the beginning, and to know when to strike for the greatest advantage. I have served under both of the generals now in command of this army. I have served under McCLELLAN when he was in command of the first battles of Bull Run until his victory at Antietam, when he was relieved from command by the feeble, self-seeking, and gallant general. The result of his removal is known to all.

Will the Tribune please publish this and other letters from soldiers—they are now the real defenders of the Union talk?

PENDLETON'S withdrawal has utterly failed to carry over the Democratic vote of President LINCOLN the reliable who were enlisted under his banner. Not one in ten of them will vote for even the pliable. The Germans will half of them vote for MCCLELLAN, because they are anti-slavery by instinct and education, then they want abolition for negroes. Even WENDELL PHILLIPS is in the habit of saying "it is impossible to keep the black people down," and he is right.

LINCOLN'S CONFIDENCE.

President LINCOLN is a chief magistrate seeking re-election by all means striving, by abuses of military power, by the subversion of the freedom of ballot, by intimidation, by illegal discretion, by thoroughgoing power of public plunder, by the distribution of odious offices, by coercion, and by all means, to grasp for another term the powers with which the people invested him. He has thoroughly insulted the independence of the South and the submission of it is liberty of the North. Can he succeed in putting down the will of the people? Can he succeed in the North-in States alone, as he has done in the Republican vote in three states. In the presidential election of 1860, the popular vote was:

	Democratic.	Republican.
Pennsylvania,	North, 1,476,276,	North, 268,030.
Illinois,	South, 160,215,	South, 172,161.

So that without a single southern vote the republican majority in Pennsylvania was 208,030. In Illinois it was 12,161. The record of his acts is there put concisely into words. Look at it yourself. Be sure that it is correct. Not a weather-cock on fifty million banknote more inconsistent than he. Today a peg to his rations, tomorrow a crumb to the conservatives. Read his inaugural and then read his "To whom it may concern" letter. Which is the true LINCOLN? Which is the real LINCOLN? What has CORNELIUS said? What has he not said in the face of his oath as the President? But, oh, loyal patriots, vote you for an honest man.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Thoughts and Actions of the People—Few Votes unknown—Drawing one Hour of the Regular Current.

The following is the result of a vote taken in a Mission lodge of this city a few evenings ago, after the lecture on the order had closed:

Lincoln	11
McClellan	1
Lincoln	12

A vote was taken on the 3d, among the soldiers in the hospitals at Cumberland, with the following result:

McClellan	125
Lincoln	18

A vote was taken on one of the trains of the New-York Central road on Saturday, which resulted as follows:

McClellan	106
Fremont	1
Lincoln	19

A vote on the steamboats, who passed through the lock at Spencer's on the 23d, sixty-two were for McClellan and eight for Lincoln.

Spuyzenville, N. Y., which usually gives about 200 majority for the Republican ticket, is going to be good for one hundred and fifty majority this fall.

On the Batavia branch road of the New-York Central a vote was taken the other day, which resulted as follows:

Lincoln	11
McClellan	1

A vote was taken on the train which left Troy on Saturday morning last (bringing the 8:45 A. M. passengers from Suffolk), and the following was the result:

McClellan	111
Lincoln	31
Fremont	1

A Pennsylvania regiment arrived at Washington on Saturday evening. The vote of this regiment, says the Union, is as follows: Lincoln 3, the men on the route from Baltimore to Washington:

George B. McClellan	116
Abraham Lincoln	3
John C. Fremont	2

The Times says and the Tribune falling into such a passion over the election that they are forgetting their parts of speech. The Tribune of Saturday declares that such expressions as "malice who vote for Vallandigham's candidate for Governor," and "Democrats who vote for Times of yesterday, with equal solemnity, affirms that the Democracy have taken leave of their senses and found cause to their responsibilities where has been no failure of any sort or cause."

The Times does not know the President's Republican must be under the control of others which have been handed over to the Democracy.

Ex-Governor Bissell, of California, will speak in favor of the Democratic Union Association, this Broadway, this evening. There will be, no doubt, a large audience to hear him.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "We sometimes hear Democratic partisans talk of the vote cast in 1860, who declared they would not do it again in 1864.

The Indian poll was raised at Cortland on Saturday evening. This is the second McClellan vote that has been taken in that town. The first was taken the Chicago nomination, and the second was taken after the result of the election in the state, having heretofore always been an entire supporter of the Administration.

One hundred and fifty of the returned soldiers of the 108th regiment, recently raised, who served in Morehouse, New Hampshire, a few days ago, were outspoken in the expression of their choice for General MCCLELLAN for President, and that all but three or four of them stood in the lower. They report the same to be nearly all the soldiers of the army under General Grant are also warm supporters of McCLELLAN.

A private letter from Sachem, New Hampshire, says:

"Everything looks well here, and we are very confident of carrying the town. The soldiers vote all in our favor, and we shall get a great majority of the votes of the town for McCLELLAN and supported Lincoln.

The following exhibits a very commendable manner the ships of the Grand Army of the Democratic blocks of Union county.

We, the undersigned young lads, aged from eight to fifteen years, have formed a club, and called the "Little Mac Club," of Kingston. the object of which is to support GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN for President, and to do what we can to be about to print something for the benefit of the cause. We have the following officers:

C. Goldwright, president; H. B. Haynes, secretary; W. Hall, treasurer; W. H. McKloy, reporter.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.

A McClellan mass meeting was held in Rockland, Indiana, last week, at which a vote was taken. The district is very black Republican in the political landscape, but many persons who have heretofore voted the Lincoln ticket assembled, and declared that they could no longer support it.

The following is the result of a vote taken on the trains last on the Saratoga branch to Troy:

McClellan	102
Lincoln	6

A letter from Mount Pleasant, Westchester County, says:

The people of this town is actively engaged in the canvass for the coming election. It will be a hard fought majority in this township; in fact I think it will be the hardest fought battle we have had here, nearly all the Republicans voted for for Governor, but I think we can turn the tide. We have had several large and enthusiastic meetings, and have another on Saturday next. Gen. Sickle—all pledged to defeat the whole of abolition ticket, and support General McCLELLAN and General G. B. McClellan. A number of our soldiers have left for the army to-day, and are working night and day for their old commander. The people are fully aroused, and will vote the Democratic ticket. The adjutant general, who has been with the people for and near, and relates it as the universal sentiment of the soldiers under the general. The farmers and country people are also very much interested and determined in the cause of Democracy.

The vote taken on the North Missouri on Thursday, with the following result:

McClellan	72
For Lincoln	1
For Lincoln	1

A letter from Grand Rapids, Michigan, says:

We had a record-breaking meeting.

Letter from General McClellan's Aid.

The following letter from a member of his staff will read with interest:

CHARLES C. KEELER, Oct. 9, 1864.

MY DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 3d inst., informing me of your intention to pay a flag on Wednesday evening next, is at hand. I regret that I cannot be present to meet you, but I am detained here as a witness connected to me as a witness in the trial of Gen. Fitz John Porter, and it is necessary to me that I should be present in the city of New-York on the day of the election. I am very anxious to vote for the man for whom I have ever labored, and for whose election I am willing to do all in my power. I am very sorry to lose the pleasure of meeting you and your friends on this occasion, but I hope to be able to do so at some future time.

Very sincerely, your obt. servant,

GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN.

THE WORLD'S CAMPAIGN SONGS.

The New Yankee Doodle.

Brothers Fast, and brothers Wert,
Hear in true communion,
Saving peace, but leaving best—
And sacrifice—the Union!
Little Mac and trusty Pre—
Names we join so handy—
They shall be no banner men!
Yankee Doodle dandy!

We have got a work to do,
For the Union saving;
And we mean to put it through
Spite of all enemies!
Little Mac, &c.

We by wits, and soil, and skill,
Must rely for our starry banner;
And, by George and Fan! we will
To its utmost measure.
Little Mac, &c.

Columbia hide us from her flag,
From its banners,
Flaming South, a bastard rag,
North, a rank of rosaces;
Little Mac, &c.

For and wide, We're horrid brand
Sweeps in red division;
We must shuffle it, and our hand
Loses its Dove's white pinion.
Little Mac, &c.

We must bring our brothers back,
Bring the erring,
Opening to them Reason's track,
And from their relieving!
Little Mac, &c.

In our hands, exerted swords,
We lose keen for shedding,
And upon our backs and words,
Peace and Union breathing.
Little Mac, &c.

We have had enough of wool,
Quite too much of shoddy;
We must insist on Lincoln's School
With—"Exit Everybody!"
Little Mac, &c.

Little Mac will take the chair,
And prate the holier teacher;
Doing justice anywhere—
As bids the Sacred Preacher,
Little Mac, &c.

Swords to ploughshares shall be turned,
And hollow nose bullets;
And, evermore, the vessel spurned,
Both North and South—of Zeolites!
Little Mac, &c.

O! brothers, let us falter not,
Nor of a doubt be tolin'!
All other watchwords be forgot—
In "Union and McClellan!"
Little Mac, &c.

Our foes in Lincoln's grave are slain,
Set we on Truth's blue armor;
They with the dust of Power are made,
But Right is deathless!
Little Mac, &c.

Yet a moment and little more,
All their hordes shall perish;
While we cheer, from shore to shore,
The Victors we cherish.
Little Mac and trusty Pre,
Names we join for duty;
They shall be our banner men—
Yankee Doodle dandy!

CONNECTICUT ALL RIGHT.

Results of the Late Town Elections—Great Democratic Victory and Gains—The State Right for McClellan.

The most we feared of the town elections in Connecticut, the more encouraging the results prove to be, and for the Democracy the better.

Not only have the Democrats carried a large number of towns which he previously have controlled by the Republicans, but they have greatly diminished the majority against them in the towns which the Republicans were most confident. At this rate, the state will go for McClellan and Pendleton, everywhere of the thousand Democratic votes which the presidential election will bring out. Only five days have since elapsed since the town elections, three having been carried by the Democrats, and in the others the Democratic vote is nearly the last that of last year. The Republicans are the returns from a number of the towns in the following:

Bridgeport, which has for several years gone Democratic by large majorities, gives a Democratic majority of 117.

Derby, the first time so fifteen years, elects a Democratic board on the largest vote ever polled.

In Meriden the Democratic gain was 130.

New London gave the Republicans majority last year. This year it was 311, a Democratic gain of 175.

Norwich gives a Democratic gain of 166 since last spring.

Danbury gave a Republican majority of 195. Democratic gain 54.

In Darien the Republican majority was reduced 56.

Greenwich gives 167, Democratic majority—a heavy gain.

In Portland the Democrats run three separate tickets and carry the day. The town is given for McClellan and Pendleton in November, the usual Democratic majority for the town.

In New Britain the Democratic gain was 71.

East Haddam shows a Democratic gain of between 60 and 70.

Middletown last year was carried by the Republicans by 150 majority. This year the Democrats carried it by 61 majority.

Trumbull elected a Democratic board last all through, by about 100 majority.

Ansonia, the Democratic gain this year was carried by Democrats, by 7 majority.

Waterbury gives 625 Democratic majority. Bristol 50 majority, and Plymouth 30 majority.

Ashford elects every Democratic candidate by nearly 60 majority, a large Democratic gain.

Stafford went Democratic by 45 majority. The Republican majority has been gradually cut down in the past two or three years from 150.

The Democrats of Waterbury after a hard fight carried the town by 577 majority.

The following are the towns carried by the Democrats so far as heard from:
